

FOR FAMILIES WITH A FEW MINUTES

Try This

Less deciding.
More doing.

Husband-and-wife team · parents of a 6-year-old and a 2-year-old

We built this for our own family.

Two working parents. A curious 6-year-old. A fearless 2-year-old. And a handful of minutes that too often disappeared while we searched for something to do.

The real friction wasn't a lack of ideas.
It was choosing the right one, right now.

One good idea beats another endless list.

Try This asks only what matters in this moment — the mood, setup, and number of players — then recommends one activity.

- 1 Pick the moment
- 2 Get one matched idea
- 3 Start playing

THE DIFFERENCE

An idea is only useful if you can play it.

Every activity is written to answer the questions a tired parent actually has:

How do we start?

A line you can say out loud.

What do we do next?

Clear, specific play instructions.

How can it fit us?

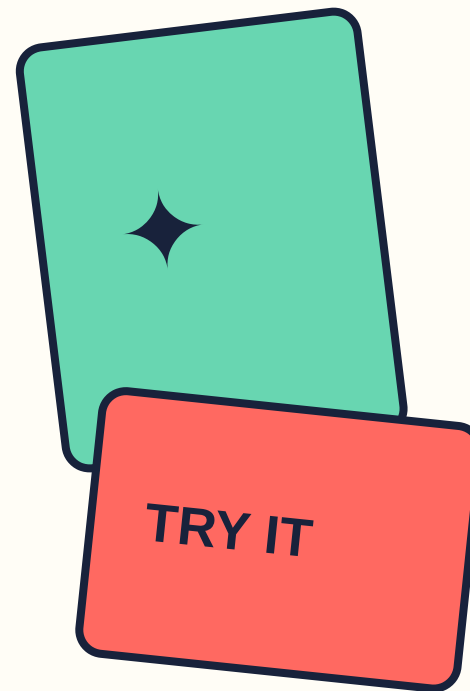

Easier and harder variations.

OUR GOAL

Turn five spare minutes into a shared memory.

Try This helps families spend less time choosing — and more time laughing, making, moving, talking, and being together.
